

Bolster Your Self-Funded Health Plan by Reducing Errors and Costs with a Comprehensive Auditing Service

▶ Although most health care claims are processed with highly-automated claims payment systems, insurance companies and third-party administrators still rely on human effort to make those systems work. Consequently, claims errors can result from human misinterpretation of plan language, flawed recordkeeping systems or other factors. BMI Audit Services can reduce the headaches and costs caused by errors by effectively helping you and the claim administrator implement corrective actions to minimize errors and stop payment of benefits not intended by the plan. BMI can pinpoint the weaknesses in your plan operations and ease the administrative costs and hassles of your self-insured plan.
